This data was found in June 2009 at the links listed in column A of the Data sheet. Visit a of the links for additional information. The data are currently sorted in decreasing order on total compensation in column J. All monetary values are in $ millions.

Much of the data from column P on is missing. This is because these columns have to do with 6-year averages, and these CEOs have tenure less than 6 years

Note that the rankings shown here, with Ellison easily in first place, are strongly affected by the stock gains in column N. These occur when CEOs exercise stock options, which Ellison and many others evidently did in 2008. This means that they purchase stock at a low fixed price and sell it back at the high current price, realizing a windfall. The total compensation in column J includes this windfall, which is subject to taxes.
