

Department of Regional Economics and Administration

invites you to the

21st International Colloquium on Regional Sciences

June 13 – 15, 2018

Hotel Kurdějov, Kurdějov, Czech Republic

Topics

The Colloquium represents a platform for meeting of experts whose common interest is research of European region issues and above all, the Czech and Slovak ones. Region is perceived as a territorial unit between national state and municipalities, which implies the necessity of specific approaches to dealing with their matters. In this sense the Colloquium is thematically focused on:

- issues of regional disparities in the context of the economic, social and territorial cohesion policy,
- impacts of activities of public administration on public policy implementation in municipalities and regions,
- evaluation of economic, innovation and knowledge potential of Czech, Slovak and European regions,
- spatial aspects of transport, tourism, population, environment and business environment.

Preliminary programme

- 13/6/2018 registration, informal meeting
- 14/6/2018 registration, plenary, dinner, sections, social evening
- 15/6/2018 sections, conclusions of colloquium, dinner

Conference fee CZK 3000

Registration March 15, 2018

Papers: March 15, 2018

Conference proceedings

Papers will be published in reviewed conference proceedings with ISBN. It will be submitted for CPCI by Clarivate Analytics – Web of Science (proceedings published from 2010 to 2016 have been included in it, proceedings 2017 are under the evaluation process).

Accommodation

Hotel Kurdějov – hotel houses
Vinař, Kaskáda, Adina and Tennis.