Since its inception in 2008 the Brno office grew to a main software development center at SolarWinds. With more than 300 software engineers we have our hands in development of almost every product from SolarWinds portfolio. We employ experts in range of technologies such as C++, C#, ASP.NET, Java in areas of databases, networking, systems and applications, storage and virtualization. We are high-performing team, hiring only the best and letting them grow and do what they are good at by using agile software development process, open communication across teams and locations. We work closely with teams in other locations around the World giving our employees a truly international experience. And it is not just engineering. With continuously accelerating growth of the office and new teams of technical support, UX design, product management and marketing we are quickly becoming the key player in the IT/software development industry in the Czech Republic. We grow fast, but we also keep the start-up mentality and fast-paced culture of achievement where every day is different. We work hard but we also pay hard, having top notch office space with relax areas, gaming corner and regular social events.
