

prof. Mgr. Lukáš Fasora, Ph.D.

born 28.12. 1972 Brno

Workplace: Department of History, Faculty of Arts, Masaryk University, Arna Nováka 1, 602 00 Brno, Czech Republic

Employment Position:

Professor, Vice-dean for Research and Development

Education and Academic Qualifications:

2016: Professor in the Czech History

2009: Docent (Higher Doctorate) in the Czech History (Masaryk University, Brno, Czech Republic)

2001: Doctor of Philosophy in Czech and Czechoslovak History (Masaryk University Brno)

1996: Master of Arts in History and Philosophy (Masaryk University)

Employment Summary

2001-present: Masaryk University, Brno, Czech Republic

1996-2001: Klasické gymnasium Brno, Czech Republic (Teacher)

1994-1996: Střední škola pro knihkupce a nakladatelské pracovníky, Brno, Czech Republic (Teacher)

Pedagogical Activities

History of Czech Lands and Middle Europe 19th and 20th century

- History of Town Society
- History of Education
- History of Public Administration
- Didactics of History

Scientific and Research Activities

- Civil elites and municipal self-government
- History of Universities
- History of Secularization
- History of Worker's Movement

Member of Scientific Councils: Faculty of Arts Charles University Prague; Faculty of Arts University of Ostrava

Member of Czech-Slovak-German Committee of Historians; Czech-Austrian Committee of Historians

Member of the Czech Association for Economic and Social History

Member of the Association for the Study of German History in Czech Lands

Member of Matice moravská

Member of the Editorial Board: Historica, Prager WISOHIM, Marginalia Historica

Foreign study stays:

University of Cologne

Geisteswissenschaftliches Zentrum für Geschichte und Kultur Ostmitteleuropas

Instytut Historii Polskiej Akademii Nauk

Foreign Languages:

German, Polish, English, Russian