PERSONAL

SUMMARY

I am an enthusiastic, diligent and straightforward person who likes modern technologies. Having ability to deal with multiple concurrent priorities, I am able to establish and maintain effective working processes inside any kind of team. I possess a broad range of technical, personal and leadership skills that was tested fairly enough during my career. My interest is in field of strategy, finance, performance management and business analytics. I have passion in logic and numbers that often lead me to interesting ideas out of the box.
