

elbMUN

2012 April 17-21
Dresden

facing regional challenges in a globalized world

From April 17th to 21st, elbMUN 2012 will once again take place at the Saxon State Parliament in the city of Dresden, Germany. Representing a country in one of four committees, you will be debating, negotiating and drafting resolutions. Be part of this year's United Nations' simulation and become a diplomat for five days!

What's on the schedule?

Arab Revolution
Energy Supply of tomorrow
Nuclear Disarmament
Landgrabbing
Human rights in Islam
and many more...

...covered in these committees:
Security Council (SC)
Economic & Social Committee (ECOSOC)
General Assembly (GA)

Why should I join?

Join us and gain insight in UN activities, take part in enriching debates and prove your negotiating skills! This is your opportunity to get in touch with international students, broaching some of the world's most challenging issues in the beautiful city of Dresden, the capital of Saxony.

In short: You will have an amazing experience!

How can I take part?

Sign up on elbmun.org (Deadline: February 29th)

Participation fee: 60€ (including daily lunch, visa support)

Minimum age: 18 years

For early birds: free accommodation at host students possible
