Hey first years!

Congratulations on your acceptance to the Faculty of Medicine at Masaryk University. The students at this medical faculty, converge from many different countries both inside and outside of Europe, to help form this supportive and approachable family which is known as MIMSA.

Welcome to the city of genetics, the former homes of Gregor Mendel and Jan Purkyně to name a few. As the second largest city in the Czech Republic, Brno is a hospitable town which is kept alive by students from three different universities. Apart from the obvious social advantages, Brno is a highly cultural city with lots to offer ranging from the Opera and theatre to the historical castles and buildings situated in and around Brno.

MIMSA, Masaryk International Medical Students' Association, was founded to assist the students of medicine and dentistry to enhance extracurricular activities, with the aim of bringing all of us closer together. MIMSA is also your representative to the Faculty of Medicine and Masaryk University. We endeavour towards forming a comfortable environment, so as to make Brno truly your home away from home.

Over the next few weeks, you will be settling into your new surroundings and will be flooded with new information, but don't worry, that is why we are here! If you want to get more involved with MIMSA, or have any questions about Masaryk University, medicine, life or any combination of all the above, send us an email to mimsa-info@mimsa.cz or visit our website at www.mimsa.cz. Even better, come by for a chat at the MIMSA Office, located in the basement of Komenskeho nam 2 (Medfac for short!).

I would like to end this message by inviting you to join us in the activities we have planned for you, during Orientation Week 2011. On behalf of the MIMSA Board, I look forward to seeing your faces during Orientation Week and future MIMSA events.

Yours truly,
Rita Matos
Vice - President

Masaryk University

Masaryk University is the second largest university in the Czech Republic and the largest in Moravia. It comprises of nine faculties with two hundred departments, institutes and clinics, which carry out activities in a wide spectrum of disciplines and areas of research. It has become one of the leading teaching and research institutions in both the Czech Republic and Central Europe.

Despite its rapid growth, the university remains the most selective in the Czech Republic in terms of the ratio of students applying for studies to the actual number of students accepted. Masaryk University was also the first higher education institution in the Czech Republic to provide prospective applicants with the opportunity to apply for studies via an electronic application form. The prestigious EUNIS Elite Award 2005 awarded to the university's Information System (IS) is proof of its leading position when it comes to the introduction of information technologies in tertiary education, being the first in Czech Republic and also the first among the new member states of the EU. The high rate of success of Masaryk University research teams in obtaining funding for research and development projects offers striking proof that it is also a prominent research university. Science and research activities in 2005 amounted to 560 million CZK (20 million EUR). The new university campus in Brno, Bohunice, a project unique within the Central European region, offers new research opportunities and the chance to link these with teaching.

RESEARCH
Research, one of the highest priorities in Masaryk University, is evident both in the close relationship between research and education in its Doctoral and Master's degree programmes and in the number of successful research projects carried out across the whole range of disciplines that the university is engaged in. A few of the most impressive research results at Masaryk University in recent years are mentioned below:

ENZYMES WITH PHARMACEUTICAL IMPLICATIONS
A team of experts from the National Centre for Biomolecular Research at the Faculty of Science scored a major breakthrough in discovering new characteristics of enzymes that facilitate the commercial production of a number of substances, including pharmaceuticals.
STEM CELL RESEARCH
Research into blood-forming stem cells under physiologic and pathologic conditions are one of the key research programmes in the Internal Hematooncological Clinic at the Faculty of Medicine.

PSYCHOLOGICAL AND SOCIOLOGICAL RESEARCH INTO CHILD DEVELOPMENT
The Faculty of Social Studies; in cooperation with the Faculty of Medicine of Masaryk University, The Faculty of Humanities of Charles University in Prague and The University of Bristol in the U.K., is carrying out longitudinal studies of the mental, social and health development of children.

INFORMATICS AND MEDICAL RESEARCH
The Laboratory of Optical Microscopy at the Faculty of Informatics is concerned with the development of computer-operated devices based on optical microscopes that are capable of independent scanning and analysis of images of cells and their parts, allowing 3D imaging.

First time in the hospitals

During your visit to the hospitals, please be prepared for the fact that, tutors speak English but most patients don't.

Czech health care system
Works on the European pluralite type of health care. We have excellent government hospitals that serve the healing patients with general care. The health care system has two sectors: public and private. By law, all citizens staying in the Czech Republic must have some health insurance. You (as a student of Masaryk University, Faculty of Medicine) are insured by the University against damage done at work and any injuries.

Recommended clothing
In Czech Hospitals you have to wear a white lab coat. If you are studying Dentistry, you must have white clothes - t-shirt, trousers, socks and white slippers/shoes (not dirty ones from street). It is possible to buy all the necessary clothing here.
The Czech Republic is in the middle of Europe. With its population of over ten million inhabitants and an area over 78,000 square kilometres, it belongs to one of the smaller countries from the former eastern block. By its location, it is one of the most important transit countries. Our state has a multiparty parliamentary democracy headed by president Václav Klaus.

Czech economy with a situation of 82% of the European Union average is considered to one of the most stable and prosperous of the post-Communist states. Recent growth has been led mostly by export to Germany. It was founded on 1st January 1993, when Czechoslovakia broke up into The Czech Republic and Slovakia. It became a member of OECD in 1995, NATO in 1998 and EU in May 2004.

The country is historically and culturally divided into three main regions - Bohemia, Moravia and Silesia. The country is also divided into 14 administrative regions.

The capital is Prague, which is also the biggest city in the Republic (population over one million) and the administrative centre. It is the siege of the President, the Government, the Parliament of the Czech Republic and the Major Court. The second most important and largest city is Brno.

The majority of people living in the Czech Republic are Czech. Minorities living in the Czech Republic (almost 2%) include Slovaks, Polish, Germans and the Romanians.

The Czech Republic is one of the least religious countries in the world. Over sixty percent of people consider themselves as atheists. The majority of these atheists like to say: "I believe in something above us". The majority of religious people are Roman Catholics and Evangelical Catholics.

The country has a continental climate. You should prepare for a relatively hot summer and a cold winter with ice and snow.

The Moravian region is the hottest and driest region in the Czech Republic. It is great for planting vegetables, fruits and also wine.
Czech Republic tourist destinations

Even though the Czech Republic is a small country in the middle of Europe, a lot of tourists visit every year, because it has much to offer. These tourists search especially for monuments, which are unprecedented in the world and also for natural beauties, which are the boast of this land. The borders of the country are created by mountains, which protect architectural treasures inside.

Prague

The capital of the Czech Republic is Prague. This city is the centre of state institutions, courts, various organizations and companies, political parties, religious associations, universities etc. Prague castle is dominant, which is the traditional residence of Czech monarchs and since 1918 it has been a residence of the Czech president. In the third yard, there is St. Vitus cathedral. It is the main and also the biggest cathedral in Prague. It is actually devoted to three saints of Czech history. These are St. Vit, St.Vojtech and St.Vaclav-a patron and protector of Czech lands. In the area of Prague castle, there are a lot of various churches. For instance, St.George's basilica, St.Cross' chapel and St.George's monastery. Apart from these, there are pleasant grounds around the whole complex, e.g. The golden street, which is full of very small houses, where goldsmiths used to live. Nowadays there are galeries, museums and stalls with souvenirs.

The Golden street ends with the tower Daliborka. It is a turret from the 15th century with a dungeon.

Vltava is the longest river of the country and flows through Prague. There are many bridges across the river in Prague and the most interesting and important of them is Charles bridge. It is located at the place of the original Judita's bridge which was destroyed by a flood. Charles bridge is from the 14th century when Karel IV was the king of the Czech lands. At the bridge, there are many statues of Czech saints. Well-known are St.Jan of Nepomuk or St.Cyril and St.Methodius.

Prague is full of squares. The most interesting of them are Vaclavské náměstí (Wenceslas square) and Staroměstské náměstí (Old Town Square). At the top of Václavské náměstí is the National museum and the statue of St.Václav. The major attraction of Staroměstské náměstí is the Old Town Hall with astronomical clock - Staroměstský Orloj. Other monuments which can be found in the centre include: The National theatre, Vysehrad Castle, The Jewish Quarter and Petrin Hill. The whole historical centre of the city is included in the list of UNESCO world heritage sites. Historical monuments are not the only wealth of Prague. There are a lot of modern buildings. For instance, the Dancing house at the quay of Vltava. Prague is a city, but there are areas where nature is untouched. For example, Petrin gardens are ideal for walks and for view of the city, because there is the Petrin tower. The template for this building was The Eiffel Tower in Paris (It is a miniature version of it).

Kutná Hora
An urban conservation area, which played an important role in silver mining in 13th century. The whole city is surrounded by forests. The heart of the town is a scenic square with romantic restaurants. The most visited monument is St.Barbora’s cathedral, which is situated near the centre of the city. Apart from this cathedral you can find other historical monuments, which are worth seeing, such as the Czech museum of silver and medieval mine, Stone house or Stone fountain. We recommend you to visit the famous ossuary. It is a remarkable expirience for medical student.

Český Krumlov
The city lies on the banks of Vltava around the originally gothic castle complex. It’s architectural heritage has remained intact for more than five centuries. There is the second most extensive castle grounds after Prague castle in the republic. The monumental reservation includes over 300 Gothic and Renaissance buildings. Český Krumlov is an important centre of culture, because there are six museums, a well-known City theatre and in the summer the actors act out in the garden of the castle in a revolving auditorium.

Telč
The square of Telc is flanked by a set of gothic and renaissance burgher houses with arcades. Houses have renaissance, baroque and classical shields. The square directs to the original gothic and renaissance castle from the 15th century with a nice renaissance garden and an English park. Other important monuments include: the area of the former Jesuit college of the holy name of Jesus, a late gothic Church of St.Ghost, a spirit parish Church of St. James from the 14th century, the Marian column and two baroque fountains in the square.

Lednicko-Valtický areál
Princes of Liechtenstein transformed their estate between the 17th and 20th century in a big park. This area is among the most modified landscapes in Europe. Adjustments were based on the principles of the English parks. Here you can find the baroque architecture, the neo-gothic architecture or castles and small buildings built in the romantic style. These are Glasshouse, Minaret, New court, Temple of three graces, Obelisk etc.

Olomouc
The city is situated in the middle of central Moravia. For its unique atmosphere, it is a popular center of international conferences and festivals. Olomouc is, next to Brno, the second historical and political center of Moravia. Nowadays the Palacky university is situated in Olomouc and also the archdiocese. The city is the spiritual and educational centre. An important monument is the Column of The Holy Trinity. This pillar, erected in the 18th century, reaches a height of 35 meters. This unique piece of architecture is characterized as „Olomouc baroque“. The column is decorated with many statues and sculptures and is the largest in central Europe.

Žďár nad Sázavou
The city is important thanks to the church at the Green hill „Zelená hora“. The pilgrimage church dedicated to St. John of Nepomuk was built during the years 1719-1722. It is a masterpiece of the architect Santini and the most original example of the so-called „baroque gothic“. It is built in a five-pointed star and is surrounded by a cemetery and chapels. Around this circuit turn five chapels each with triangular floor plans and a layout with five chapels in an oval shape. The second attraction is the Museum of Books which is the only one in central Europe.

All of these previous cities belongs to the list of UNESCO world heritage sites.

Hluboká nad Vltavou
The castle is the biggest attraction for visitors. It is a neo-gothic monument built in the Tudor gothic style, following the model of the English Royal Windsor castle. Moreover, there are more attractions: Ohrada zoo, a luxury golf course, the princely court and Alš’s South Bohemian gallery where you can see a collection of sculptures and paintings by Dutch painters from the 17th and 18th centuries.

Slavkov u Brna
A town known as Austerlitz abroad. It is an important place of European history, because The Battle of Three Emperors took place there on December 2nd 1805. The Napoleon army defeated the Austrians and the Russians.
You can visit: Peace memorial at the Zuran hill where Napoleon had his main tent. A Baroque castle with an imposant garden in a French and an English style in the centre of the town. Nowadays, there is a historical museum which offers a multimedia presentation of the battle.

Czech nature
The Czech Republic is surrounded by mountains, which historically protected the Bohemia for centuries from invasions. To the North, one can find Krkonose, which is one of the highest mountains in the region and its peak, Snezka is a truly unforgettable sight. To the South-West, we can find Sumava, and its summit, Arber. These mountains, are one of the oldest in the whole of Europe and it forms the border with Germany. The Vltava River boasts a truly awesome engineering construction, the Lipno Dam, which makes the largest water area of the republic. To the East, one finds Beskydy, which are forested mountains constructed of rounded peaks and they make the borders between Poland and Slovakia. To the South you can find Pálava. Pálava is a protected area with untouched nature, 30 km away from Brno. It starts from the village Pavlov and finishes around the city of Mikulov and the state border with Austria. The local landscape is very preserved and thanks to that you can meet a lot of rare animals and plants. There are important archeological areas, because this place was constantly inhabited for thousands years.
Travelling in the Czech Republic

In the Czech Republic you can travel quite easily to almost everywhere. There are many ways and companies to travel with. Here we have recommended just a few of them for you:

BUSES:

History of Brno

The surroundings of Brno were settled into, around 4000 BC, when the first agricultural colonies were founded.

In approximately 1020 AD Brno castle was built by Duke Bretislav and a small colony on the bank of the river Svratka started to spread. In 1243 the villages of Brno were united and Brno got the royal town privileges. Famous Cistercian nunnery (monastery for nuns) was founded by Queen Eliska Rejcka. During the following centuries, the town was surrounded by fortifications and its importance rose. Brno became a prominent meeting point of three big trade-routes leading from Poland, Austria and Hungary.

In the Thirty Years War the city was besieged by Swedish forces, who did not manage to conquer the city. That big Swedish defeat prevented them from marching against Vienna and gave more time to create an Austrian offence and end the war promptly.

Following the war, the city became a forcible baroque fortress. In 1742, the Prussian army tried to capture the city but they also broke their teeth on it. Shortly after that the bishopric was established on the hill Petrov.

On December 2nd 1805, The Three Emperors' Battle was fought in Austerlitz (Slavkov) near Brno. The Napoleon army defeated the Austrians and the Russians.

In the 19th century, the fortifications were demolished and the city enlarged in Vienna`s architecture style. In this time, J.G.Mendel laid the foundations of genetics at the monastery in Old Brno. During the First Republic (1918-1938), the university was established and named after the first Czechoslovakian president T.G.Masaryk.

The second world war was devastating. The city was controlled by the Gestapo from Spilberk and many citizens were murdered in Kounicova dormitories by SS troops. After the war, all german inhabitants were deported.

The next communist era brought economical stagnation. Fortunately the city was changing into a lovely metropolis. Many finances were invested into science and education. In 2007 the University Campus for medical and natural sciences became functional and by September 2010, it was officially completed and opened. Since then, Masaryk University has become the most modern university building in central Europe.
MUST SEE IN BRNO
Must see in Brno

Spilberk castle
The baroque fortress with Petrov hill dominates the skyline of Brno. The old castle was founded by King Premysl Otakar II in 1277. In the 14th century, autonomous Luxembourgs reigned here. During the centuries the castle was transformed into a forcible baroque fort. The fort resisted all swedish attacks during the battle of Brno (1643) under Raduit de Souches leadership. In the 18th century, Spilberk became a nightmare for the whole of Europe. The terrific prison was built in Kasematy. The heaviest prison in the Austrian-Hungarian empire was called „dungeon of nations“. This prison was closed as late as 1961. Nowadays, you can find a museum there. Many famous festivals such as Ignis Brunensis, Summer Shakespeare festival and iron fencing exhibitions take place there.

Petrov
This church was built on the rocky edge of the old part of the city. Together with Spilberk they make up an incommutable panorama of Brno. We can find the cathedral of St. Paul and St. Peter and the Bishop´s residence there. The cathedral of St. Paul and St. Peter is the oldest Cathedral in Brno, its beginnings are dated to 11-12th century. It was rebuilt into a gothic church in the 14th century and it was given the final form in the years 1904 and 1905 when the two towers, the dominating features, were built in neogothic style. You can find Petrov on one of the Czech coins.

Freedom square (Náměstí Svobody)
The dominating feature of the city centre, the square of triangular shape, is Namesti Svobody. The first thing that you may notice is the plague column and Skacel’s public fontain where the parts of his poems are written. The whole square is bordered by bourgeois houses where historical elements together with modern ones are gently mixed. The square is an attractive place especially when traditional Christmas and Easter markets take place. Do not forget the every-year November gustation of wine from the Czech fields. It is a unique experience.

Česká street
The pedestrian zone going from the northwest part of Namesti Svobody and leading to Jostova - where many tram stops can be found. Looking for a great place, where anyone meets anyone? You can´t miss Česka street, the biggest meeting point where young couples have dates under the clock, classmates start their way around pubs and children wait for their mums. Every day and night time, you can meet someone here.
Vila Tugendhat
The jewel of functionalism is situated in the Cerna pole quarter. It was created by famous architect Ludwig Miese van den Rohe for Mr and Mrs Tuggendhat in 1928. Because of their Jewish origin, they had to escape and the house was used by Willy Messerschmidt, a German aircraft engineer. After the second World War, Red army ruined almost the whole interior. After the Velvet revolution, the house was reconstructed and in 2001 his importance was declared by its inclusion in UNESCO patrimony.

Capuchin crypt
The crypt is situated in the basement of Elevation of the Holy Cross Church near Masarykova street. There you can find mummified bodies of more than 50 people, monks and Aristocrats from the 18th century. The bodies were mummified just by air and you can admire their whole physiognomy. The body of famous Baron Trenck, a leader of dragoon regiment (one kind of Brno beer is named in his honor) and St.Clementine relics are buried there.

Jundrov forest
If you want to get rest in a forest within the city of Brno, you should go to Jundrov. The wide forest-park is just few minutes by tram from the centre. Many pavements cross this park. You can meet mouflons, deer, wild pigs and many other animals there.
How to get there: the bus No. 52 from Mendel square ("Mendlovo namesti"), it's the stop "Stara dalnice".

Brno Exhibition Centre
This fairground is most important exhibition ground in the Czech Republic. It is situated in Pisarky valley near Mendel square. It was founded in 1928. The pavilions were designed by elite architects of that era. Many exhibitions such as the international machine, industries exhibit, invex, the concerts of the best rock bands like Linkin Park, Rolling Stones can be seen here.
How to get there: tram No. 1, tram stop called 2Výstaviště".

The University campus
The complex of the most modern university buildings in Europe. It is situated next to the university hospital of Brno. The theoretical departments of Faculty of Medicine, Faculty of Science and Faculty of Sports Studies are situated there.
Take a bus No. 60 or 61 to bus stop "Nemocnice Bohunice" or you can take a trolley bus No. 25 from Mendel square to the same bus stop.
Prehrada (dam)
This 10 kilometres long dam, also called the "Sea of Brno", used to be one of the most frequent recreation areas, where boats were anchored and the green meadows around attracted people for long walks. It is still a very popular centre for relaxation and sports activities, especially the water sports such as windsurfing, canoeing, sailing, fishing and many more. With regrets we have to say, that swimming in the dam is at your own risk because of cyanobacteria. The best way how to get there is to take tram No.1 and get out at the 2Pristaviste station".
If you want to take a longer walk, go to the north to the Veveri castle.

Veveri castle
The castle is lying upon the river Svratka in the north end of Brno dam. This gothic castle was founded in the 13th century. During centuries a small manor was transformed into a large castle with huge fortifications and towers. In 19th century countess Ypsilanti rebuilt the surroundings into parkside with glasshouses.
The area surrounding the castle is hilly and woody, it is a good choice for having a picnic because of the nice view of the dam. You can get there by bus, bike or by boat across the dam.

TRANSPORTATION IN BRNO

Transportation in Brno

General information

The city of Brno and its surroundings are serviced by a public transport system with unified travel tickets, which can be used for travelling by trams, buses, trolley-buses, microbuses, boats and trains (limited distance). This company is called Dopravní podnik města Brna (abr. DPMB) - in English it is called - Brno Public Transportation Company. (www.dpmb.cz)

Tickets

Before each journey, you must have a ticket and validate it immediately after boarding the vehicle. During changes, tickets do not need to be further validated.

The validity of a ticket is time and zone limited. If you travel around Brno you don't have to buy any tickets with extra zones. The ticket is valid from the moment it is validated for a period specified on it and only in those tariff zones marked on the ticket.

All tickets are transferable, except the 10 minutes ticket (this one is valid only in the vehicle, where it was already validated).

Losing a ticket, forgetting travelling pass, ticket control

You need to have a validated ticket during your entire journey. (That means you have to validate it immediately after getting on board). In every vehicle, there can be ticket inspectors. These are casually dressed men or women, which will show you a card or metal badge of Brno Public Transportation Company. You have to show them your ticket or pass. If you don't have any of these, you will have to pay a fine, 700 CZK if you pay immediately or within 5 working days, 1000 CZK if you pay later. If you own a pass and you just simply forgot to take it with you, you have to (to avoid paying the full fine) bring it within 5 working days to an outlet of transportation company and you will pay a fine of 50 CZK. Should you lose anything when travelling, ask any driver for assistance. All found items are deposited, the following day, at the Lost and Found Office, Malinovské honam. 3, Tel. No. +420 542 173 012

Communication

The isolation from the Iron curtain days still influences normal life in the Czech Republic and you can feel it mostly in communication. Sometimes older people are diffident to international students. The majority of older people only speak Czech, although some also speak Russian. Almost all young Czechs speak English or German.

Czech is a very specific and hard language, which has its own specific letters like Ř - a fricative trill (no one except Czechs can pronounce it ;<) )

But the pronunciation is quite simple - the letters are pronounced the same way as read.

During your stay in a hospital, in a restaurant or in shop, the phrases below can be useful for you.

CZECH CUISINE
Czech cuisine

Eating habits in the Czech Republic are quite different from the rest of the world. Our cuisine is typical for middle Europe - it is quite heavy, but in combination with our national drink - beer; it is a tasty meal and a delicious experience. Eating is a Czech national sport. You can see many people with their well deserved bellies. We call it "beer pregnancy" or "beerceps".

The day usually begins with a light breakfast. The main meal of the day is usually the midday meal - lunch. Dinner consists of a small meal but many men heist their fridges during the whole night.

Soups
The Czech meal consists of two courses - the first ordinary part is a hot soup. It is usually served as part of the menu in restaurants. Most common are beef or chicken broth with noodles or liver dumplings.

Sauces
Sauces (omáčky) have the leading role in Czech cuisine - usually made from meat broth and vegetables (e.g. tomato sauce, mushroom sauce and sauerkraut soup called "zelňačka" or famous vegetable sauce and marinated beef sirloin called "svíčková").

The main course

- Roasted pork, sauerkraut, dumplings (“vepřo-knedlo-zelo”) - the most famous Czech meal. You can order it in all Czech restaurants and we highly recommend you to try it.
  (As a side dish to the sauces we usually serve dumplings (knedlíky) - meal made from a dough (flour, eggs and sometimes potatoes) boiled in hot water).

- Goulash - originally a Hungarian dish, which is very popular in the Czech Republic. It is in fact meat broth with red pepper. Also served with dumplings but of a different kind - made from a roll.

- Bramboráky - fried pancakes made of rough-grated or fine-grated raw potatoes, flour, milk spiced with marjoram.

- Wiener schnitzel - meat fillet in bread-crumbs served with potato salad or fried cheese with potatoes.

- Koláče, Buchty - a type of yeast pastry consisting of fillings ranging from fruits to cheese or poppy seeds on doughnuts.
Beer

Brewing has longstanding traditions in the Czech Republic. The first records about beer production relate to 1088 and the first brewery is known to have existed in 1118 and the city of Brno had the right to brew beer from the 12th century. The most famous Czech beer brands are Pilsner Urquell and Budweiser Budvar, but in Czech Rep. you can try many different beers, some of them you can find only in specific days during the year e.g. harvest beer “Dožínkové pivo” or green beer “Zelené pivo”.

Practical information

Almost all beers produced in the Czech Republic are bottom-fermenting. They are varied in colour from pale “světlé”, through amber “polotmavé” and dark “tmavé” to black “černé”. Top-fermented wheat beer “pšeničné pivo” can also be found pretty often. Beers in the Czech Rep. are brewed in different strengths from 3-9% of alcohol, which will be expressed also in its taste. In pubs or on the labels you can distinguish this by grade scale. Mostly you can get "tap" beer 10° containing app. 4.4% alc., "lager" beer, brewed between 11° (5% alc.) and 12° (5.5% alc.) and “special” beers, brewed above 13°.

Reservations are not obligatory if you want to go for a beer. On one side there is a high possibility that you won’t find a free place in the pub you wanted; on the other side there are lots of other pubs nearby you can visit. The most popular days for going for a beer are Friday followed by Wednesday and Saturday, that’s why we recommend you to reserve for a place (or make a reservation). Making a reservation is for free; usually you have to be there by 20:00, at the latest.

Smoking in the pubs is allowed in Czech Republic, but in some restaurants or cafes you can easily find a non-smoking part, unfortunately this is not the case with pubs.

On the next page, you have IFMSA’s TOP 5 pubs list. You can find more pubs (also good) in appendices.

Shopping

What is the great advantage of Brno when we are talking about shopping? An amazing idea to buy? everything necessary, everything that can satisfy your needs, nearby. As time has gone on, a lot of new supermarkets and shopping areas have grown in Brno. Supermarkets try to cover all customers needs and their opening time is very often non-stop. The shopping areas themselves are usually open until 9p.m. We would mention for example:

Gallerie Vankovka

A warehouse turned into a shopping center with a large variety of shops and cafés. The shopping mall is the passing point between the central train station and the bus station. If you need to find something, that would be the perfect place to start.

Olympia

The second shopping area is further from the centre, with almost one hundred shops, cafes, restaurants or fast foods with the addition of a kart circuit. Challenge your friends and have a great afternoon chilling out. Though out of the city, still a good place to visit for a good time. A multiplex cinema and bowling alleys can be found here. There is a free bus connection between Vankovka and Olympia with special blue buses.

H&M / Zara

Because students have to always look their best, the best place to create your style would be Zara and H&M.

Wagner

A must go to any student who needs books, dossiers or any other kind of study material to be successful in their course.

The perfect place to buy furniture and make your house/flat feel more like home.
