There are two types of tests recognized in the Czech Republic (see O-N-T rules above). You can undergo either an antigen test or a PCR test. Find the location of testing places in Brno at <https://www.muni.cz/en/coronavirus/information-for-students#testing-locations>. Keep in mind that different tests may be required for different activities (such as arrival to the Czech Republic) and may have different lengths of validity. Some places such as restaurants or services do not accept tests any more.

There are some rules on the public health insurance coverage of testing for international students: see further details at <https://covid.gov.cz/en/situations/antigen-testing-sars-cov-2/information-comprehensive-testing-using-antigen-tests>. Keep in mind that not all foreigners are eligible for free antigen or PCR testing in the Czech.
