

1 Complete the gaps with question tags.

1. Everything went very smoothly at today's presentation, _____? didn't it
2. Everyone's on board, _____? aren't they
3. There's no alternative, _____? is there
4. Alfie's never been responsible for such a huge project, _____? has he
5. Somebody will be able to fix this, _____? won't they
6. Let's arrange a meeting for next Thursday, _____? shall we
7. I'm having lunch with their CEO tomorrow, _____? aren't I
8. These new sales figures are hardly promising, _____? are they
9. There was an awful lot of traffic this morning, _____? wasn't there
10. Emma used to work for a bank, _____? didn't she

2 Ask about the underlined part of a sentence.

- 1 The company has promoted three employees.
Who has promoted (the) three employees?
- 2 The company has promoted three employees.
How many employees have they promoted?
- 3 The company has promoted three employees.
Who have they promoted?
- 4 Their company was founded in 2002.
What was founded in 2002?
- 5 Their company was founded in 2002.
Could you tell me when the company was founded?
- 6 Their company was founded in 2002.
Whose company was founded in 2002?
- 7 Occasionally, deliveries are delayed for technical reasons.
How often are deliveries delayed for technical reasons?
- 8 Occasionally, deliveries are delayed for technical reasons.
Why are deliveries occasionally delayed?
- 9 The receptionist has to reply to plenty of emails every day.
How often does the receptionist have to reply to plenty of emails?
- 10 The receptionist has to reply to plenty of emails every day.
Who has to reply to plenty of emails every day?
- 11 We're having a meeting with the other party on Friday.
Who are you having a meeting on Friday with?
- 12 Helen has worked for the same company since 2000.
I'd like to know how long Helen has worked for the same company?

