1. What do we mean by Regions?

2. What is meant by E.U. regional policy

3. The 'Europeanisation' of Public Policy

European Union Public Policy Lecture 11 1. What do we mean by 'Regions'

- 'Regions' defined not just by economics, but also culture and history (language, customs, traditions)
- Regions as institutions (over past 30 years)

- E.U. regions widely defined – dependent on level/amount of institutionalisation of regional government

- Nation-state – under internal and external pressures

- Council of European Regions

- Committee of the Regions (established in Maastricht Treaty, 1993)

2. What do we mean by E.U. regional policy

- aim of E.U. regional policy is to promote solidarity
 - produce cohesion in E.U.
 - based on principle of subsidiarity
- 276 regions, over 600 million people

- entire territories of 10 new Member States of May 2004 designated as falling within Objective 1 of E.U. Structural Funds
 - two-thirds of new E.U. citizens from 2004 accession states lived in regions with GDP per head of less than half

E.U. Public Policy Lecture 11

- 3. 'Europeanisation' of public policy
 - E.U. 'single public policy areas'?
 - E.U. policies affect:
 - policy style (formulation and implementation);
 - general problem solving approach;
 - policy instruments employed;
 - policy standards set (based on E.U values and principles)

- Europeanisation of :

- pressure groups
- interest groups
- epistemic communities

4 processes of 'Europeanisation' of policy: a) 'bottom-up' (national state – E.U.) b) 'top-down' (E.U. – national state) c) 'horizontal' (State – State) 'round-about' (national state – E.U. – d) national state)

'Europeanisation' based on underlying E.U. principles and 'core values':

- social progress;
- the aim of high levels of employment;
- social protection;
- the aim of raising living standards and quality of life;
- promotion of social cohesion and social justice

'Europeanisation'

= overarching E.U. core values and principles, within which individual policies are shaped, and diversity and 'mutual recognition' acknowledged, particularly in implementation to meet policy aims
