

Wandera Summer of Code | Internship

We are excited to announce the Wandera Summer of Code as an opportunity for students to practice development skills on real problems of cloud product development and delivery pipelines.

Sure, summer is a time of partying, sunbathing and travelling, but it is also the best time to start a career in IT.

We are Wandera

We provide a zero trust cloud security solution to protect new way of working. We secure corporate data and devices against cyber threats, enable to set policies to filter internet access and reduce risk exposure, and provide zero-trust access to all applications. Our clients are, for example, companies such as Mastercard, Pepsi or PayPal.

Wandera was founded in 2012 in London. Two years later Ondřej Nevělík moved back to Czech Republic and established a Czech branch in Brno, which has grown organically to more than 130 people.

What will you do here?

Projects which you might work on vary from tools visualising metrics (e.g. collected from test automation or project management tools) to test environment for an iOS app integration automated test. Each project is owned by some team and you become part of the team. Most importantly you will be part of defining the scope, tech implementation and working on delivery. Living and working in an Agile/Scrum environment and getting experience how projects are run in an Agile way.

- You'll be part of a team for the summer or maybe longer, and you'll work on interesting projects and learn a lot!
- You'll have a skilled mentor by your side to help you grow and do a good job.
- You'll become a great programmer and learn about DevOps or how projects are managed.
- You may be able to earn a few credits because this programme is built into the Interim project course requirements for MUNI and PEF Mendelu students.
- And of course you will make some money for your summer vacay.
