Seminar paper

The seminar paper about 12-15 pages, will assess labour market policies at the national level (or regional, local) level, by choice of the students.

It will consist from 3 parts:

Introduction (the purpose, the method)

1 Analysis of the problems in the labour market, the challenges (the level and profile of unemployment, the causes, the most affected groups)

2 Assessment of the policies at place: how they respond the problems (the scope of ALMPs, the tools, their adequacy, targeting, quality).

3 Final assessment, recommendations.

Teaching methods

lecturing, class discussion, home-works, readings, seminar paper and feedback

Evaluation

2 tests, 5 open questions each (not included in final evaluation but bottom limit of 10 points from 15 for each test must be achieved)

Seminar paper (will be assessed and must be accepted as satisfactory)

Exam (written exam): 2 more detailed questions (18 points maximum, 9 points each question, the bottom limit is 12 points = E)
