- Exclusion sets incentive to search for own identity; possibility to keep distance on the basis of new values.
- Integration process against exclusion
- Multikulturalism vs. partikularism

Multikulturalisms

- 1957 Switzerland
- 60. s in Canada (French and English speaking population united), state ideology
- 70. s – Europe a Gastarbeiters – assimilation becomes mainstream
- American melting pot possible only for individuals. Hispanics broken this model.
- Europe since 1989: ambition to educate towards inter-cultural tolerance and knowledge (cultural relativism) – Holland and Scandinavia leading trends vs. discriminatory/assimilatory politics (German speaking world)
