DAY 2!

Another chance to participate!

We would like to invite you to Miniconference no. 2, where you have a unique chance to participate in many unforgettable discussions about very interesting topics as Marriage and religion, Intellectual property protection or American adversarial justice system. You can not only catch new information, but you have a chance to share your opinion and learn something new!

Programme:

15:05 -> Registration

15:10 -> Presentation 1 -> Intellectual property protection

15:35 -> Presentation 2 -> American adversarial justice system

16:00 -> Presentation 3 -> Marriage and religion

16:25 -> Coffee break

Intellectual Property Protection

The main aim of our presentation is to introduce the topic of institutionalised intellectual property protection, focusing mainly on the biggest Czech intellectual property organisation, the OSA. At first, we will address the subject of intellectual property in general and outline briefly its most basic institutes and related terminology used in this branch of law, which might be useful to the audience while revising for the forthcoming English exam. Further on, we will describe the function of intellectual property organisations, their goals and position in the world that is now almost entirely connected by means of the internet -- a world where sharing has taken on almost a religion-like role in the society. Finally, we will get to the OSA itself, its history, purpose, functioning and impact on one's everyday life. We hope we can help improve intellectual property awareness, and that our presentation will be informative and educational, as well as interesting.

American adversarial justice system

Our presentation deals with some very fundamental aspects of the American adversarial justice system - the federal and national court system. As there is always some tension between these two and as there are also very interesting cases involving such slight enmity, the subject is worth presenting. We will examine the cause that inflicted creation and maintaining of two court systems independent on each other as well as the impact of their mutual existence to an everyday life. After attending our presentation you will be able to distinguish one court system from another and to tell the most important differences.

Marriage and religion

Our presentation is dealing with the institution of marriage and its connection to religion. At first, we will shortly talk about matrimony in general, its status in society and marriage ceremony. Then we will focus on different religions and their angle to the institution of marriage. Special attention will be given to the specifics of marriage for each religion. We will also analyze the issue of divorce under the influence of these religions. We won't forget to mention the angles to same-sex marriage. At the end there will be a brief quiz to test your attention. It is our sincere hope that our presentation will educate and interest you as well.
