Marketing for Lawyers Expectation of clients

Task from previous lesson

Prepare some loyalty program for a law company.

Customers want

 if we compare customers from twenty years ago to customers nowadays, we'll find that today, customers want more.

• Customers want:

- faster service,
- more convenient service,
- more flexibility in things like payment plans and options,
- less time waiting in lines,
- their problems solved almost immediately.

Expectations x wants

 Wants – customer want to solve his problem

 Expectations are formed from customer experience in the marketplace.

What expectations are you from the standing in the Czech Republic?
Are you satisfied?

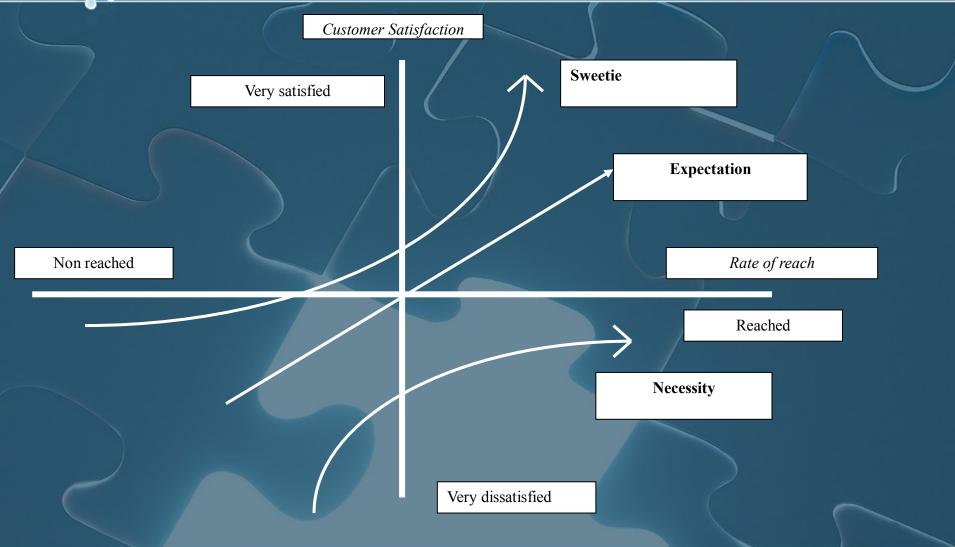

Expectations

Past experiences
Word of mouth
Customers needs and wants
Risk perceived
Price

Kano model
