Czech for Foreigners I

The main aim of the course Czech for Foreigners is to teach students to communicate with patients in Czech without any help of English speaking doctors or interpreters and independently take case history. Successful communication in Czech is required by all medical universities during their practical training at Czech hospitals.

After first year students can:

- understand vocabulary and basic phrases related to students, their families, and their immediate specific surrounding, provided people speak clearly and at a slow rate.
- communicate in common routine tasks, such as shopping, accommodation, using public transport, orientation in the city, asking the way, being able to describe their place of living and people they know by simple phrases and sentences.
- fill in forms with personal data, such as name, nationality and address when applying for residential accommodation.

The emphasis put on the knowledge of parts of the body and basic useful phrases in medical communication.

Passing the subject

- attend the classes (you can miss 2 of them without proper excuse)
- pass the final test: passmark 70 %
- final test passmark can be reduced by:
  - passing the progress tests
    - 2 written tests: each, if passed, will reduce your final test passmark by 2 %
    - 1 oral test: if passed, it will reduce your final test passmark by 3 %
    - completing homeworks: if you complete over 90 % of the assigned homework, your final test passmark will be reduced by 3 %
