A tropical seascape with a sailboat on the water and palm fronds in the foreground. The sky is filled with dramatic, layered clouds in shades of grey, white, and yellow, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. The water is dark and textured. The word "Bahamas" is centered in the middle of the image in a bold, black, serif font.

An aerial photograph of a tropical island in Fiji. The water is exceptionally clear, showing a gradient from shallow turquoise to deep blue. Several traditional stilt houses with corrugated metal roofs are built on wooden pilings in the shallow water. A long wooden boat is in the foreground. In the background, a large, dark, forested island rises from the sea under a blue sky with scattered white clouds.
