In the beginning

Form a group with 3 or 4 of your classmates.

You must have only one specialisation in each group.

For example - 1 x maths teacher   1 x history teacher

                          1 x literature teacher   1 x biology teacher

By the end of today's lesson

- Set up and put the following information on your website:
    - School structure
    - Vision statement
    - School rules
    - Subject justification / teacher's view of subject

Divide the tasks. Help each other. Watch the clock.

School structure

Your school is an international school somewhere in the Czech Republic. As such, all classes (apart from languages) are taught in English. You need to decide:

- School name
- Uniforms
- Age/grade range (primary, 'middle' school, secondary school)
- Start/finishing times
- Anything 'special' about your school? - Keep it realistic!

Vision statement

What's your school's philosophy? What does it stand for? Why does it exist?

THE MISSION OF NORTH OCONEE HIGH SCHOOL IS TO: TEACH INSPIRE TRANSFORM AND NURTURE STUDENTS

At Concord School we aspire to develop 21st Century Learners.

The following core values underpin the management and teaching practices at our school.

- Respect
- Personal Best
- Happiness
- Cooperation
- Honesty

School rules

Complete the chart for students and teachers.

should / shouldn't	must / have to
don't have to	mustn't

Teacher profile & subject justification

Example - feel free to write with your own style:

My name is Mr/Mrs/Ms Teacher and I am head of X. X is important because … In their X lessons, students will … Students that do well in X may go on to become astronauts, chefs, taxi drivers, etc etc

Website ..site

Build your website here:

www.strikingly.com

One website per school.

Everyone in group needs the access information.

Save a document to the homework vault with group members name's, UCO, and website link.

Before you begin

Keep in mind last week's cliche.

Push your grammatical range.

Add to your vocabulary.
