Submitting a list of literature and sources

- About 5 monographs or 10 studies, recommended range 10 standard pages.

- Put the latest version of the document in the subject Homework vaults in IS MU.

- DEADLINE: 1/9/2023 incl.

- Your supervisors evaluate your performance and enter the evaluation into IS MU.

- Document structure:

- o Introductory page (subject name and semester; name and UČO; name of doctoral project; supervisor's name);

- o a list of studied literature and sources: bibliographic record of the study/monograph, a paragraph with a description of the content (approx. 200–300 words), comment: how the text can be used for the dissertation project.

Research design – methodological balance (linked to subject DKKP_TH_02)

Submission of the research design – methodological text to the DKKP_TH_02 subject Homework vaults by the set deadline DEADLINE: 30/06/2023

- Range: approx. 10 to 20 NS.

- Document structure:

- o Introductory page (name of subject and semester; name and UČO; name of doctoral project; name of supervisor);

- o Brief presentation of the research goal;

- o Description and brief critique of research methods used so far in the given area (or related areas) with reference to key outputs (publications);

- o Presentation of the own research method, its justification with regard to the set goals, criticism (benefits, risks);

- o Procedure (how the chosen method will be applied, step by step);

- o Appendix: Mind map? Graphic representation of the research field and your movement in it;

- o Literature and sources.

This is a methodological text, which ideally will become the basis for writing the methodological chapter of the dissertation. Consult the text with your supervisors.
