The deadline for signing up is one hour before the class begins. The numbers of speakers on both teams should be equal or have at most 1-person difference.

Rules

In the first round, each speaker will make his/her argument using concrete examples as supporting evidence.

In the second round, speakers on one team will refute the other team's argument in turn.

You could meet in advance with your team to discuss the structure of your argument and possible rebuttals to the opposing opinions.
