Active Citizenship in the history and the present. The role of personality and spirituality in written and oral texts.

Aktivní občanství v historii a současnosti. Role osobnosti a spirituality v psaných textech a mluvených projevech.

Programme Outcomes:

Improved skills and competences of students, staff and other educational experts at all levels of education (mobility)

Why do you want to carry out this project? What are the project objectives? Please explain the relevance of your project to the needs and objectives of participating organisations. (Max. Num. of characters: 5000) *

This mobility project is an important tool for a well structured and goal-directed international cooperation in tertiary education. The focus is on the historical topics, e.g. portraits of Holocaust victims and survivors, portraits of the volunteers connected with the Nansen-aid organisation in the years 1938 - 1940. The central perspective points toward an analysis of "active citizenship" in the mirror of present democracy discourse in Europe. The overall project objectives shall enable the students and other participants profound understanding and adequate realizing of the essential human values such as respect to national and religious minorities. At the same time, the mobility outcomes guarantee for the students the competencies to promote the acquired knowledge in the context frame of the Norwegian-Czech mutual cultural exchange relations. This target matches the desirable profile of the students and graduates of Masaryk University and is in full adequacy with the character of the participating partner organisations.

How does your project contribute to the Programme objectives: How does your project strengthen bilateral relations with the Donor states? How does your project contribute to the Programme outcome indicators and priorities? (Max. Num. of characters: 4000) *

Our mobility project is built entirely on Czech-Norwegian relations and themes. Department of German, Scandinavian and Netherland Studies concentrates in its programme curricula (3 years bachelor and 2 years master programmes) on bilateral relations with Norway in history items, literature context and democracy traditions in the society as well as the actual debate on contemporary problems. Our students and graduates are equipped with the competencies as translators, interpreters, diplomats, editors, journalists and cultural mediators.

The mobility to Norway and from Norway contributes to networking, direct meeting with the society in the donor and benefit state support professional contacts in the international understanding and cooperation. Our students can in this way get also expert mentoring for their bachelor and master diploma thesis. The priority for our project is to contribute to self-assurance of young intellectuals of both sexes, as well as to long-time advancement of human sources in our country.

If there are participants from disadvantaged groups (i.e. with disabilities and physical or social disadvantages) please give information about their profile/background. If applicable, please explain the need for accompanying persons. (Max. Num. of characters: 4000) *

No disadvantage students participating in this mobility project.

Please describe expected impact(s) of your project. How will you evaluate the project outcome? Do you plan to continue institutional cooperation with donor states partner(s) after the end of the project? (Max. Num. of characters: 4000) *

The evaluation of the project realisation and outcomes will be carried out in the congruence with the cooperation partner institutions according to the points in this application frame and Letter of Intent. The main responsibility in the evaluation process has the Department of German, Scandinavian and Netherland Studies (MU)

Masaryk University has already cooperated with the University in Agder and the Oslo Jewish Museum. We have concrete plans to continue institutional cooperation with these and other institutions in Norway in the period after this mobility project (e. g. doctor study level cotutelle - common responsibility with University in Agder). Also the cooperation on the bilateral basis Erasmus Pluss will continue.

Please describe the tasks and responsibilities of each partner. What procedures/control mechanism will you implement to ensure smooth cooperation and communication between partners during its preparation and implementation

Administrative arrangements, communication, distribution the EEA grant among partners (Max. Num. of characters: 4000) *

Each partner has own responsibility for the selection procedure of the participating students and the participating staff. The criteria have been synchronized in the start phase - all participants have to contribute with a relevant lecture or seminar paper, compatible to the Mobility project topic.

The communication between the partners in all phases will be ongoing via mail.

All partners are responsible for the preparation and realization of the visit items for own participants and for the visiting participants. Two staff and four students from Norway coming to Brno will carry out the planned programme (Project workshop). Eight students and one staff coming to Oslo Jewish Museum will be provided access to the library and archive.

The Promoter university is responsible for ECTS credits.

Oslo Jewish Museum and University of Adger: partners have arranged that the Organisational Support amount 350 Euro per participant will be distributed as follows: 70% for the Promoter University, 30% for the partner institution.

Inland Norway University of Applied Sciences: partners have arranged taht the Organisational Support of 350 EUR shall be divided equally.

The grant shall be distributed based on the Partner Agreements signed once the grant is approved.

Selection of participants and/or involving participants in the mobility, learning agreements/ mobility agreements, recognition and validation of participants' learning outcomes (e.g. ECTS, Europass, ECVET) (Max. Num. of characters: 4000) *

The selection criteria for the student participation from MU and UiA:

1. Project plans and activities, their compatibility with the institutional project frame (Faculty of Arts MU)
2. Student motivation letter
3. References from the home university for each participant
4. Language competence (Norwegian and English)
5. Study level and study results
6. Guarantee for participation in all phases of the mobility project (A: Preparation, B. Mobility, C. Outcomes and Implementation)

This mobility project is an important tool for a well structured and goal-directed international cooperation in the tertiary education. The background for this project is the long-time profile and aim plan of Masaryk University in the field of international contacts and cooperation in all study programmes.

This mobility project is built up as a bridge between historic topics and today's questions concerning democracy values, as a bridge between various accesses cross over the disciplines (literature, history, psychology, sociology, art), as a bridge between Norway and the Czech Republic, as a bridge between the individual participants in both countries.

The focus is on historical topics, e.g. portraits of Holocaust victims and survivors, portraits of the volunteers connected with the Nansen-aid organisation in the years 1938 - 1940.

The central perspective points toward an analysis of "active citizenship" in the mirror of present democracy discourse in Europe. The overall project objectives shall enable the students and other to achieve an adequate realizing of the essential human values such as respect to national and religious minorities in society.

The student groups travelling abroad will be followed by experienced teachers and experts, so that the mobility outcomes bring for the students' professional competencies

(e.g. communication with media) and to promote the acquired knowledge in the context frame of the Norwegian-Czech mutual cultural exchange relations. This target matches the desirable profile of the students and graduates of Masaryk University. The realization of the mobility items, concrete outcomes in the form of student texts, as well as lasting influence implementation, of the participants – these are our project goals. Moreover, all these aspects shall be produced benefits such as a cognitive enrichment and emotional experience for all participants.
