Comments and/or topics and questions for the thesis defence:

Despite covering such a broad time span from a historical and cinematic point of view (the vast number of films mentioned) Petra Fišerová's BA thesis has clearly stated aim, development and strong argument that is supported by adequate knowledge of primary and secondary material – detailed compilation of numerous related films created a useful groundwork for possible future in-depth analysis of particular films. The structure of the thesis is transparent with logical succession and the development of the argument convincing – first hand experience is a valuable asset to the thesis. The text reads very well because its language is clear and elaborate with only minor language mistakes (mostly misspellings). Ms. Fišerová's thesis provides many valuable and interesting observations; therefore I would like to congratulate her to this accomplishment.
